

Economic Injury Disaster Loans Available for Small Business Owners

We understand that every business is being impacted differently by COVID-19, and therefore we want to make sure you are aware of an important and potentially business-saving resource that is now available.

Economic Injury Disaster Loans are available through the United States Small Business Administration (SBA). These funds are currently available in your state and can be accessed for small businesses in several industries.

SBA provides low-interest, long-term loans for physical and economic damage caused by a declared disaster, such as coronavirus (COVID-19). This program can provide up to $2 million in low-interest loans for small businesses that can be used toward fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills.

These loans have long-term repayment options as well -- up to 30 years, determined on a case-by-case basis upon each borrower's ability to repay. This disaster relief program is directly run through the SBA and does not go through banks. This program is being updated continuously, so we encourage you to click here for additional information and the most recent updates.

Below are the required items to apply for a loan.

- Tax Information Authorization (IRS Form 4506T) for the applicant, principals and affiliates
- Complete copies of the most recent Federal Income Tax Return
- Schedule of Liabilities (SBA Form 2202)
- Personal Financial Statement (SBA Form 413)
- Profit and loss statements
- Monthly sales figures (SBA Form 1368)

You can access these step-by-step instructions if you need assistance filling out the loan application.

For additional information, Contact Us at 317.846.5554